

Chapter 4

Orientation, Training, and Staff Development

“The time has come, the walrus said, “to talk of many things.”

L. Carroll, Through the Looking Glass

ORIENTATION

At this point, you are ready to begin planning the orientation schedule for your new staff member. During your initial interview, the applicant learned a good deal about you, the program, the purpose of the center, the job description, and the compensation and benefits for the position. The orientation schedule will build on that beginning.

This section contains a number of tools to help you plan your new staff's first few days. You will find a model checklist for orientation; several days of orientation schedules; and structured observation forms for the new employee to complete during his/her visits in other teachers' classrooms. You will also find a Teacher's Checklist to help the new teacher identify problems as he/she begins in his/her own classroom. Also included in this section are a few aids to help you teach new staff how to write activity plans. We begin with a small section on training in general, current training as required by Standards, and ways to maintain training records.

The orientation scheme that follows is only one of many options. It does provide a framework for adapting your own needs and resources to its recommendations. The amount of information that your new staff member must absorb is challenging. There must be continuing opportunities for learning about child growth and development, age characteristics, language skills, interaction patterns, and so on. The director must make the decisions about resources, funding, evaluation, and content of the orientation process. The planning that goes into orientation will pay off in quality and retention of the teacher you have hired.

TRAINING OPTIONS

What are the variables?

1. How often do you hire new staff? How high is your turnover?
2. Do you have an assistant or associate director who can help with some of the orientation tasks?
3. Can you afford to hire a substitute while the new person is going through orientation if she is filling a vacant position that is necessary to meet required ratios?
4. What aspects of your own program require additional orientation?
5. Do you have facilities and equipment for showing power point presentations, video tapes, etc.?
6. Do you have space away from the children in which to conduct orientation sessions?
7. Are local community resources available for training in basic child development or early childhood education?
8. Is it possible to collaborate with other centers in your area on orientation tasks?

GLOSSARY OF EMPLOYMENT TERMS AND PERSONNEL POLICIES

There are certain laws and regulations that apply to all centers. There are some laws that apply only when a certain number of employees are affected. And there are laws which may apply only locally. (*The forms for items marked can be found at the end of this chapter.)

The following terms are defined to give you a general idea of those regulations.

Employment Eligibility Verification:*

Employers must verify the citizenship status of their employees. Employees must show proof of United States citizenship or permanent or temporary employment eligibility (Form I-9 of the Immigration and Naturalization Service).

Equal Employment Opportunity Act:

Discrimination in hiring because of sex, race, color, religion, or national origin is prohibited. (Some exceptions applying only to religious organizations have been made by a recent Supreme Court ruling.) The number of employees must be fifteen or more for this law to be invoked.

Equal Pay Act:

All employers must obey the Fair Labor Act and must pay women and men equal pay for equal work.

Federal and State Withholding Tax Laws:

The Internal Revenue Service and the Virginia Department of Taxation require withholding of taxes from salaried employees in certain kinds of centers. Withholding forms will be a part of each staff member's record.

Minimum Wage:

Set in 1997 at $5.15 per hour with mandatory compensation of time and a half for hours worked over forty hours per week. (The Fair Labor Standards Acts established this wage provision as well as equal pay, overtime pay, child labor standards, and record keeping requirements.)

The Probationary Period

The probationary or “try-out” period is usually from thirty to ninety days, and is a contract statement. For new employees and for the center, it provides a time of trial. Do the characteristics, attitudes, and habits of the new staff member fit in with the demands of the position? Do the center’s demands and expectations fit in with the staff member’s concept of working with children? Are the physical and emotional aspects of working with children satisfying and fulfilling? The probationary period allows both the center and the employee to terminate the agreement without any bad effect on the employment record.

Following the probationary period, the contract is in effect and will continue for the period stated in the contract or in the letter from the center confirming the employment.

TIME REQUIREMENTS OF ORIENTATION AND TRAINING

The Licensing Standards REQUIRE that:

- A. By the end of the first day of assuming job responsibilities, all staff shall receive the following training:
1. job responsibilities and information regarding to whom they report
 2. the policies and procedures listed in the Standards that relate to the staff member's responsibilities
 3. the center's playground safety procedures and plan (unless the staff member will have no responsibility for playground activities or equipment)
 4. recognizing child abuse and neglect and the legal requirements for reporting suspected child abuse as required by § 63.2-1509 of the Code of Virginia.
 5. confidential treatment of personal information about children in care and their families
 6. the Licensing Standards that relate to the staff member's responsibilities
- B. By the end of the first day of supervising children, staff should be provided in writing the following:
1. the center's philosophy and any religious affiliation
 2. operating information, including the hours and days of operation and holidays or other times closed, and the phone number where a message can be given to staff
 3. transportation safety policies
 4. policies for the arrival and departure of children, including procedures for verifying that only persons authorized by the parent are allowed to pick up the child, picking up children after closing, when a child is not picked up for emergency situations including but not limited to inclement weather or natural disasters
 5. policy regarding any medication or medical procedures
 6. policy regarding application of: sunscreen, diaper ointment or cream, insect repellent
 7. description of established lines of authority for staff

8. policy for paid staff to report suspected child abuse and neglect as required by § 63.2-1509 of the Code of Virginia;
9. policy for admitting custodial parents to the center as required by §63.2-1813 of the Code of Virginia
10. policy for communicating an emergency situation to parents
11. the appropriate general daily schedule for the age of the enrolling child
12. food policies
13. discipline policies including acceptable and unacceptable discipline measures
14. termination policies
15. procedures for supervising a child who may arrive after any scheduled classes or activities including field trips
16. procedures to confirm absence of a child from the center when the child attends more than one care or educational arrangement a day
17. procedures for identifying where attending children are at all times including field trips
18. procedures for action in case of lost or missing children, ill or injured children, medical emergencies, and general emergencies
19. procedures for response to natural and man made disasters
20. procedures for storing and giving children's medications
21. procedures for action in case of lost or missing children, ill or injured children, medical emergencies and general emergencies

In addition to the above requirements, staff working with children in therapeutic or special needs child day programs must receive the following training before assuming job responsibilities:

- a. universal precautions procedures
- b. activity adaptations
- c. medication administration
- d. disabilities precautions and health issues
- e. appropriate intervention strategies

C. During the first year and on an annual basis

Each staff person working directly with children must attend annually 12 hours of staff development activities that shall be related to child safety and development and the function of the center. Such training hours shall increase according to the following timeline:

June 1, 2007 – 14 hours

June 1, 2008 – 16 hours

Staff development activities may include up to two hours of training in first aid or cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

Required training in rescue breathing, first responder, medication administration and daily health observation of children does not satisfy annual training hours.

This training is in addition to required first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training.

Staff working in therapeutic child day programs shall attend twenty-four hours of staff development activities. A minimum of eight hours must be related to care of children with disabilities.

D. In addition

One staff person who has been trained in daily health observation,

One staff person, who has been trained in first aid, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and rescue breathing as appropriate to the age of the children in care, is required to be on the premises during the center's hours of operation.

One person on field trips and whenever children are in care must have first aid and CPR training.

STAFF ORIENTATION TRAINING

Staff shall receive the following training by the end of their first day of assuming job responsibilities:

Job responsibilities and to whom they report
The center’s playground safety procedures unless the staff member will have no responsibility for playground activities or equipment
Confidential treatment of personal information about children in care and their families
The licensing standards which relate to the staff member’s responsibilities
All information to follow in writing by the end of the first day of supervising children
Procedures for supervising a child who may arrive after scheduled classes or activities including field trips have begun
Procedures to confirm absence of a child when the child is scheduled to arrive from another program or from an agency responsible for transporting the child to the center
Procedures for identifying where attending children are at all times, including procedures to ensure that all children are accounted for before leaving a field trip site and upon return to the center
Recognizing child abuse and neglect and the legal requirements for reporting suspected child abuse
Procedures for action in case of lost or missing children, ill or injured children, medical emergencies and general emergencies
Policy for any administration of medication
Procedures for response to natural and man-made disasters
The center’s philosophy and any religious affiliation
Operating information, including the hours and days of operation and holidays or other times closed; and the phone number where a message can be given to staff
Transportation safety policies and those for the arrival and departure of children Such policies shall include procedures for picking up children after closing, for when a child is not picked up for release of children only to those who have been authorized in writing, and street safety

THE TOUR

“Where will I work? Who are my co-workers? Where are the materials?”

The nature of THE TOUR will be dependent upon your own belief about introducing the new employee to the job. Did you tour the center briefly during the interview? Do you include a period of time interacting with children as part of the interviewing process?

- ♠ Remember that once the new staff member is in the classroom there is decreased opportunity to learn about the other parts of the center.
- ♠ Remember that a visit to other classrooms gives the new staff member insight into classroom procedures, management, visual ideas.
- ♠ Remember your own “go-see” trips. Observation is a great teacher.
- ♠ The experienced caregiver in the classroom of the new staff members may not remember how many questions she had when she first came to the center. You, the director, need to give many opportunities for the new staff member to ask questions. Because many persons feel that asking questions is frowned-upon, you may need to encourage the new staff member to ask when needed. She may feel more comfortable asking the lead teacher. Encourage that, too.
- ♠ Taking the new employee around the center may help you to see things with a fresh eye. You may find maintenance things that need to be done that you had not seen.
- ♠ A tour of the playground gives you the opportunity to reinforce the expectation of adult involvement with the children when they are outside. It also gives you the opportunity to inform new staff members about safety during outdoor play.
- ♠ Remember that introducing auxiliary staff members to new employees enhances staff loyalty and identification with the center.
- ♠ If you combine the tour with showing the new staff member the exit routes in case of fire or other emergencies, you will have accomplished one of the required orientation-of-new-staff tasks.
- ♠ The tour should include storage areas, showing the new employee closets, resource files, book and activities storage, file drawers for record forms, and where keys are kept.
- ♠ You will also want to show the new member of your staff the facilities for adult use; where coats and bags are kept, where the staff lounge is, where professional materials are kept, where the drinks are, what the policy is about telephone use, etc. Remind the new staff that handbags and coat pockets often contain things that must be in secure storage in a center, e.g., medications, cosmetics, nail files, etc.

The tour is a great device. It allows for a large amount of learning—and the dictum that “one picture is worth a thousand words” is true. The pitfall is that the picture may not include the behavior or the information that needs to be transferred. So you must follow the tour with the written information either in the staff handbook or additional written handouts.

(Using the daily schedule as a guide in orienting the new staff member to the center allows you to introduce the routine of the day as well as the locations of activities.)

Timetable for Training Program

The new staff member will not become a highly skilled and effective teacher in the time that is allotted for orientation in the schedule. She will become acquainted with the tasks. The observation exercises will focus her attention on various aspects of the classroom and on the interaction between the child and the teacher. These orientation and training exercises ideally occur prior to assuming regular classroom responsibilities. In the event that time does not allow for separate orientation, appropriate adjustments to this schedule should be made so that all necessary orientation is accomplished without disrupting the classroom.

Interview

- short tour
- program
- philosophy
- job description
- compensation and benefits
- see personnel policies section for description of forms and information required to be in staff member’s personnel file.

Before starting in the classroom

- Give Staff Handbook to new staff member to use as a reference throughout the orientation.

Remember that the amount of information a new staff member needs to absorb can be overwhelming. Break the learning into small segments, check for understanding, plan to repeat the materials one or more times in the first month to assure retention. Observe the new staff to assure that the material is being put into daily practice properly.

New Employee Advisor/Mentor Program

A well planned active new employee advisor/mentor program will help new employees settle into their job and the organization and it will contribute to reducing the staff turnover rate.

The advisor/mentor should be assigned to new hires prepared to help them transition into your program from the first date of hire.

Select an advisor/mentor that has:

- High quality job performance
- Patient temperament
- Positive on-the-job attitude
- Good organizational and time-management skills

Role of the advisor/mentor:

- Provide information about company policy
- Introduce new employee around the organization
- Teach specific job duties
- Coach new employee as he or she begins to work independently
- Provide input on job performance evaluation

On-The-Job Training

“The Advisory Model” for on-the-job training has received a great deal of attention in recent years. This system proposes that the mentor, advisor, or supervisor offers advice to the trainee, teacher, and new staff member in response to a request for help. It provides help in terms of the trainee’s own jobs and objectives. It provides the help on the site, at the workplace rather than in workshops or seminars or courses. The goal is for the teacher, the assistant, or the aide to gain independence and to be an initiator of self-learning. Some aspects of this model are present in almost all supervisor/learner interactions. The inexperienced, new staff person, however, may not be able to identify the areas in which she requires assistance. She may not be able to identify the specific problem that needs solving. The Teacher Problem Checklist lists 48 common problems in child/day care. The list can be used in individual conferences as well as in establishing group problems or training needs.

In the early part of on-the-job training, you, as the director or the supervisor of new or inexperienced staff, may find a checklist such as the following to be helpful. Asking the beginning teacher to check this list may help that teacher to identify where she needs help. It should also direct the teacher/supervisor conference to make your time together efficient and directed to the problems which your new staff person is finding most troubling

TRAINING AND ORIENTATION TIMETABLE

Day 1	Complete required personnel forms.
7:30 - 8:00	Tour and introductions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a) during free play or non-disruptive times during the day b) point out fire escape routes, fire drill procedures, location and operation of fire extinguishers (schedule fire drill during first week), location of emergency phone numbers, procedure for emergencies c) visit all rooms d) playground
9:00	Observation period in classroom of teacher who is good model (not necessarily in classroom where new staff member will work but if possible, with same or closely related age group).
11:30	Lunch - teacher eats in classroom; introduce her to the children. observe lunch and naptime procedures.
12:30	Break - (time depends on center-established policy).
1:30	Director - 30 minutes - questions and answers. Discussion about confidentiality and sign form.
2:00 - 4:00	New teacher goes through records of children in her class. Become familiar with background information.
4:00	Return to classroom; meet parents as they arrive to pick up children. The director should take time to introduce the new staff member to parents at this time. This indicates support and the value and respect given new teachers by the director.

Day 2 Daily Schedule

7:30	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Observe health check and arrival procedures. (1 hour) 2. Review daily schedule with teacher (in room with children during the activity period). 3. Observe in classroom. (2 hours) 4. Spend time with director - go over emergency procedures: (1 hour) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. illness b. injury c. medication procedures (Read over Health Department Emergency Procedures)
------	--

12:00 - 1:00	Lunch Break
1:00	Time with teacher to learn about record keeping required in the classroom. Records kept would depend upon the age group with which the staff member is working. Common to all programs are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ♠ sign in/sign out procedures ♠ incident/injury report Specific to infant/toddler classrooms are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ♠ daily report (bottles, naps, bowel movements, food, special incidents) Other forms the teacher might like to show the new staff member: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ♠ weekly planning forms ♠ supply order forms
2:00	Meet with Director again. Questions and answers. Child abuse and neglect: Procedure for recording, identifying. Read child abuse information in staff handbook. Show her a filmstrip or video on abuse identification.
3:00	Read guidance and discipline policies. Read medical effects of physical punishment in staff handbook.
3:30 - 4:30	Classroom work and observation.
4:30	Home

Day 3

7:30 - 9:00	Observe and participate in preparation for the day. Observe morning health check, greet children.
9:00	Training in handwashing and infection control procedures with director.
10:00	Observation period (#2) of activities. Use planning form to describe lead-teacher activities with children.
11:30	Participate in routines in preparation for lunch.
11:45	Lunch and interaction with children. Participate in preparation for nap.
12:45	Break

1:15	Questions, discussion with director. Review licensing standards relevant to job responsibilities with director (See suggested outline of Standards): <ul style="list-style-type: none">a. emergenciesb. daily schedulec. nutrition
2:00	Read parent handbook . Read policies concerning daily routines from staff handbook .
2:30	Participate in waking up routines, handwashing, snack. Also, the new staff person should know the name of the person on duty who is trained in emergency procedures.(Why not use a “tag” system in which each trained person has a tag with her name and location in the building? When she is on duty, she hangs her tag on a hook designated for that purpose by the emergency telephone.)
3:15	Participate in activities outdoors.
4:15	Return to classroom, assist with personal care routines.
4:30	Home

Day 4

7:30	Participate in daily preparation and observe health check, assist with handwashing. Greet children and parents. Work with children under the supervision of lead teacher. Cleanup-time
9:00	Observe and assist in large group time.
9:30	Assist with personal care routines, toileting, handwashing.
9:45	Snack time – interaction with children.
10:00	Playground activities. Supervise climbing, sliding, swinging, sand play, tricycles, etc.

10:45	Break (15 minutes)
11:00	Assist with personal care routines. Small group activities such as reading, manipulatives, games (lotto, etc.), listening center, and cleanup time.
11:30	Preparation for lunch. Handwashing, cots set up.
11:45	Lunch with children. "Table talk." New staff member is in charge of a group of children. Help prepare children for nap (toothbrushing, toileting, handwashing).
12:45	Break (30 minutes)
1:15	Return from break, supervise children during nap time while teacher takes break.
2:30	Participate in waking up routines, personal care routines, toileting, hand washing.
3:00	Outside activities - supervise activities on playground.
3:45	Break
4:00	Return to room, assist with personal care routines, toileting, washing hands and face.
4:15	Read story to children.
4:30	Home

Day 5 Schedule the same as that for Day 4 except: During nap time, time allotted with teacher to go over some planning, procedures and ideas. Also, some time allotted during the day to meet with the director to ask questions, discuss perceptions, activities, and problems or concerns of the past week.

OBSERVATION #1 FOR NEW STAFF MEMBER

Name of staff member _____ Date _____

Center _____ Teacher _____

Number of adults in classroom _____ Number of children in classroom _____

Approximate age of children _____ Time of observation _____

List 5 (or more) things you see children play with:

Close your eyes for two minutes. What sounds do you hear most often?

List activities started by children: (at least 5)

List activities started by adults: (at least 5)

What did you like best in this classroom?

What did you see that you didn't expect to see?

Do the children seem

- trusting, warm with adults?
- happy?
- destructive, out of control?
- busy with activities and play?
- irritable, unhappy?
- able to follow routine?

What is the mealtime atmosphere? (If observed)

How do teachers use "waiting time" in between activities (e.g., waiting for lunch, for bus, etc.)?

What does the teacher do with: (none of these situations may arise during your observation time)

- a) A crying/upset child? _____
- b) A hostile/angry child? _____
- c) A fearful/withdrawn child? _____
- d) An injured child? _____
- e) A noisy child? _____
- f) Other? _____

Do you have any additional questions or comments?

Guidelines for Written Activity Plans

Name of Activity: Be specific. Examples: Tie Dying, Making Farmer's Cheese, Sink and Float, etc.

Age of Children: The range of ages in your classroom should be listed here by months.

Number of Children in the Activity Group: List number of children participating at one time.

Space Needed: Location and setup have much to do with an activity's success. The following questions can help decide the best location:

What amount of space will children need?

What room or outdoor features; e.g., windows, water, flat floor, stage or drying areas, rug, lighting, grass, shade, are necessary?

Will electrical outlets be necessary?

Will noise or traffic from adjacent areas cause interference?

Will one adult be able to supervise the location?

Time needed: Indicate large block of time available; for example, one hour during free play, and approximate time if rotating small groups.

Materials: Identify all materials, supplies, and/or tools. Include any visual aids and equipment for teacher as well as those materials used by the children. Indicate exact amounts of items.

Safety Considerations: List any safety considerations such as hot irons, sharp tools, etc.

Clean-up Required: Can the children participate in the clean-up as part of the activity?

Thinking About It Ahead of Time: Write briefly in a step-by-step fashion. This section should outline sequential happenings. Mentally visualize each step, its particular needs and actions, and write them out. List tasks which must be completed prior to actual activity. Examples of this would be moving furniture, mixing paint, making a recipe chart, etc. Preparation includes attention to features which minimize child waiting and decrease the need for help from the teacher.

Skills: To determine whether or not an activity is age appropriate, identify what the children can do independently and when they will need to have help. For example, water play with a variety of cups and funnels and things that float will engage children for a much longer time than pasting cut-out forms of an orange pumpkin on a piece of black construction paper. Both activities require teacher preparation time. The learning experiences of the waterplay are more enhanced. The time that a child will stay happily engaged is much greater for the water play.

Goals: What will the children get out of it? When we plan an activity, we relate it to our goals for individual children or for the group as a whole. We want it to be enjoyable and fun. We may be seeking to develop better self-esteem, or to practice eye-hand coordination, or to improve a child's enjoyment of large motor activity. Looking at "procedures" and "what the child will be able to do" determine the goals that are being served. We answer the question, "Why are we planning this?" And although we have been taught to put goals and objectives first, sometimes the reverse process works better with new staff members.

OBSERVATION #2 ACTIVITY FORM

NAME OF ACTIVITY:

AGE OF CHILDREN:

NUMBER OF CHILDREN IN THE ACTIVITY GROUP: (How many children can participate at one time and be supervised successfully in this activity?)

SPACE NEEDED:

TIME NEEDED:

MATERIALS: What materials?How much of each thing?

SAFETY CONSIDERATIONS:

CLEAN-UP REQUIRED:

THINKING ABOUT IT AHEAD OF TIME: (How to do it?Write out the step-by-step procedure you will follow.Use back of form for more space.)

SKILLS:

a. What can the children do for themselves?

b. What will you have to help with?

GOALS: (What will the children get out of it?)

OBSERVATION #3

Equipment As It Relates To Program

DIRECTIONS: Use the following Equipment/Program checklist as an observation tool for the orientation of new staff members. Choose an "Equipment" area of the classroom, then watch closely for a day as children play in that area to see which "Program Objectives" are carried out.

Equipment/Materials

Program Objectives

Housekeeping

- _____ Family life concepts and roles
- _____ Acting out uncertainties and problems
- _____ Reinforcing family roles
- _____ Acting out feelings about the world
- _____ "Give and take"
- _____ Problem Solving
- _____ Socialization

Blocks

- _____ Balance and symmetry
- _____ Concept of whole, half, quarter, etc.
- _____ Concept of shapes
- _____ Imagination
- _____ Relate experiences to own life
- _____ Cooperative ideas
- _____ Working together with others, give and take of ideas and division of labor
- _____ Proper use of equipment (no throwing!)
- _____ Problem Solving

Books

- _____ Love of books—reading is fun
- _____ Develop listening skills (important for learning to read later on)
- _____ Concept of "words on page make story"
- _____ Follow idea to conclusion
- _____ Concept of thinking in sequence (if this happens, what happens next)
- _____ Orderly thinking (why be a "fuzzy" thinker or think in "circles")
- _____ Information—widen horizons, develop new interests
- _____ Find answers to questions (research—children love to use the word, too) (What makes it rain? Let's look it up in the book and find out.)
- _____ Dramatics (children love to act out stories and "pretend")
- _____ Poetry—sounds of rhyming words, rhythm, beat

Picture books and pictures

- _____ Relate one thing to another (Who is this? What is that? What is he doing? Why do you think he's doing that? What do you think he'll do next? What is different here? What is the same? What color is the ball? How many cats are in the picture?)
- _____ Learn to take turns in group
- _____ Teach child to see, think, question

Equipment/MaterialsProgram Objectives*Puppets

- _____ Imagination
- _____ Language development
- _____ Prop to develop self-confidence in expressing himself before group
- _____ Word games (great way to help with speech problems—focus is on puppet, not child)
- _____ Orderly thinking
- _____ Storytelling
- _____ Self-expression (acting out what is important to child without having to “take the rap” for what he feels)
- _____ Creative arts and crafts (cutting, pasting, painting, etc., manipulating media)

Art
Painting

- _____ Sheer joy and satisfaction of “doing”
- _____ Experiment with media
- _____ Manipulation of large brush (helps later in learning to manipulate pencil in writing)
- _____ Scribble (first real important step)
- _____ Fill page with color
- _____ Mix one color with another (changes color—new concept—science concept—help the children to explore it)
- _____ Express feelings
- _____ Express concept of life (what’s important to child)

Modeling Compounds

- _____ Great as tension reliever (pound, push, pull, poke, etc.)
- _____ Self-expression
- _____ Self-satisfaction (“Look what I made”)
- _____ Science concepts (dries, becomes hard)
- _____ Texture

Collage

- _____ Cutting, pasting, manipulation
- _____ Muscle dexterity (small muscles)
- _____ Space and balance concepts; Color, texture, shapes
- _____ Satisfaction
- _____ Self-esteem (“I made it”)

Music and Rhythms

- _____ Fun, enjoyment
- _____ Love of music
- _____ “Listening skills”
- _____ Expression of feelings
- _____ Sense of rhythm
- _____ “Group membership”
- _____ Cooperation with peers
- _____ Interpretation of ideas (free movement)
- _____ New words
- _____ New ideas
- _____ “Ear for sounds” (pitch, tone, etc.)
- _____ Good speech therapy

Equipment/MaterialsProgram Objectives*Manipulative Toys

- Problem Solving
- Muscle dexterity (ability to work with hands)
- Imagination
- Self-expression (some types)
- Relationships of size, color, shapes
- Relationships of parts of whole

Science

- Explore the world around him/her
- Understanding his/her world
- Develops curiosity
- Inquisitive mind (What is it? How is it made? What does it do? How does work? What happens? Why? How? Is it alive? Was it ever alive? Does it grow?)
- Exploring to seek answers
- Information
- Questions (Does it have to be this way?)

Open Low Storage Shelves

- Independence
- Choice of activity (decision making)
- Respect for property (free to use equipment; must put it away properly when finished)
- Responsibility (you used it, enjoyed it, and must put it away when finished)
- Taking turns (when he's finished with the toy, I may take it)

Outdoor Equipment

- Large muscle development
- Exuberance-zestful living
- Emotional release
- Imagination
- Physical tension release (letting off steam)
- Dramatics
- Socialization

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

COLLEGES, UNIVERSITIES, AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

A wide range of certificates, associate and baccalaureate degrees, graduate work, short courses, continuing education credits, and extension courses in child care and early childhood development are available in Virginia, but not equally to all parts of the state. Training is increasingly recognized as a necessity if we are to improve care for children—whether it is for parents, directors, or staff members. Many child day centers pay partial or full tuition for staff members to attend college or university classes, and will give release time (often at nap time) for that purpose. Many institutions will establish on-site courses for staff, tailored to the time and place convenient to centers.

Courses may include (among many others):

- Guidance and classroom management
- Early childhood education
- Health and safety
- Science and mathematics for the young child
- Child growth and development
- Exceptional children
- Administration of centers
- Family day care

Teaching methods used in courses include hands-on projects, internship placements as well as observations, lectures, demonstrations, class discussions, and seminars.

Financial aid is often available either through grants, loans, or work/study.

Active involvement in training and/or continuing education enhances professionalism, promotes growth in skills, increases knowledge and understanding, and helps to prevent burnout. It may even bring an increased salary because of the additional competence that one is able to bring to the position.

VIRGINIA CHILD CARE PROVIDER SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Virginia Child Care Provider Scholarship Program provides tuition assistance to those employed in child care and those who plan to enter the field of child care who want to attend courses in child care, child development, or child care administration taught at Virginia's institutions of higher learning. The purpose of the scholarship program is to provide child care providers with a foundation in child care. The scholarship program is funded through the Child Care and Development Fund, which is financed through federal funding. Approved courses may be used toward obtaining such achievements as a Career Studies Certificate in Early Childhood Education, a Career Studies Certificate in School-Age Child Care Education, a Career Studies Certificate in Child Care Management, an Advanced Career Studies Certificate in Early Childhood Education, an Associate Degree in Early Childhood Education, and a Bachelor Degree in Early Childhood Education.

An application can be obtained by: (1) calling the Scholarship Program Hotline at 1-866-636-1608 or (2) using the Department of Social Services' website, <http://www.dss.virginia.gov/family/cc/scholarship.html> scrolling down and selecting "Child Care Forms and Applications", clicking on "Child Day Care Provider Scholarship Application".

VDSS SPONSORED WORKSHOPS

Workshops on relevant topics are also conducted on a regional basis through the Office of Early Childhood Development. Click on the catalog link  to view the full listing of courses.

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

There are statewide, regional, and national organizations, which are devoted to the interests of young children: their education, health, standards of care, special needs, and advocacy for those concerns. These organizations and their publications, conferences, membership activities, and journals offer rich opportunities for improving your own professional development.

CRITERIA FOR A GOOD RESOURCE FILE

How do you develop and organize your files to make them useful and efficient to use?

Where Do You Get Materials For A Good Resource File?

1. Teaching resource centers at university and college libraries
2. Materials distributed by instructors, leaders, and consultants
3. Bulletins and publications from government, professional organizations, and some commercial sources
4. Magazines, pictures, articles
5. Ideas shared with each other
6. Books available in the library
7. Notes taken during workshops, course work, national, state, and regional conferences
8. Your own center's files of activities, catalogs, and professional publications

What Materials Do You Include In The Resource File?

- ♠ Art suggestions...Recipes for play dough, paints, collection list
- ♠ Science suggestions
- ♠ Trips and excursions
- ♠ Games
- ♠ Finger plays
- ♠ Songs
- ♠ Books for children
- ♠ Sources of books

- ♠ Social studies...Ideas for community field trips, visitors
- ♠ Creative dramatics...List of prop box ideas and ingredients
- ♠ Health, safety...Information and education activities
- ♠ Program planning
- ♠ Equipment sources and catalogs (a good source of ideas for teacher-made materials)

Parent Involvement

- ♠ Specific ideas for parents' meetings
- ♠ Parent conferences
- ♠ Involving parents in the program
- ♠ Home visits and other informal contacts
- ♠ Parent interests and talents

Community Resources

- ♠ Public agencies
- ♠ Private agencies
- ♠ Consultants
- ♠ Your own personal network (See following form)

Note: The resources listed provide a beginning list. There are many resources (check your phone book) which you may wish to suggest as possible resources to parents, teachers, or staff.

Background Checks Forms and Information:

Sworn Statement or Affirmation
Criminal History Record Report
Central Registry Finding
Waiver Request Application
Due to Criminal Conviction

INFORMATION ON BACKGROUND CLEARANCE FORMS

Sworn Statement or Affirmation

The sworn statement or affirmation is a statement completed by a person attesting to whether he has ever been: (i) convicted of or the subject of pending charges of any crime within or outside Virginia or an equivalent offense outside Virginia, or (ii) the subject of a founded complaint of child abuse or neglect within or outside Virginia. The Department of Services has created a model form.

Criminal History Record Report

The criminal history record report is either the criminal record clearance or the criminal history record issued by the Central Criminal Records Exchange, Department of State Police.

The Department of State Police has an automated method for requesting and receiving criminal record information. The automated method provides responses more quickly than use of the mail method. It requires the requestor to have a 486 (66MHZ) or Pentium PC with a dedicated telephone line. For information on this method, visit the Virginia Department of State Police website at www.vsp.state.va.us and go to the Forms section.

Central Registry Finding

The central registry finding is the record of founded complaints of child abuse and neglect for an individual.

Waiver Request Application Due to Criminal Conviction

Information about background checks and the waiver of criminal convictions is available in the background checks regulation and in the Code of Virginia §63.1-1719 - §63.2-1727.

Background Checks

The background checks regulations require that licensed child day centers and religious exempt centers obtain a sworn statement or affirmation, central registry finding, and criminal history record report for:

1. Any Applicant
2. Any agent at the time of application who is or will be involved in the day-to-day operations of the center or who is or will be alone with, in control of, or supervising one or more of the children
3. Any employee who is involved in the day-to-day operation or who is alone with, in control of, or supervising one or more children
4. Any volunteer who will be alone with any child in the performances of duties excluding a parent-volunteer

The purpose of these checks is to determine if the person has ever been: 1) the subject of a founded complaint of child abuse or neglect within or outside Virginia or 2) convicted of certain crimes specified in the Code of Virginia §63.2-1719. If the individual is found to have one of the conditions listed, the person cannot assume or maintain his duties. There are limited exceptions, including a waiver for certain criminal convictions.

The basic intent of background checks is to protect children in care. The regulations should be referenced for specific details to assure compliance.

Explanation of Sworn Statement or Affirmation

Requirement: Sections 63.2-1704, 63.2-1720, 63.2-1721, 63.2-1722, 63.2-1724 and 63.2-1725 of the Code of Virginia (Code) require individuals to provide a sworn statement or affirmation to a licensing, approving or hiring authority, facility, or agency prior to licensure, registration, approval, employment, or provision of volunteer services. A sworn disclosure or affirmation is a statement completed by a person attesting to whether he has ever been: (i) convicted of or the subject of pending charges of any crime within the Commonwealth or equivalent offense outside the Commonwealth, or (ii) the subject of a founded complaint of child abuse or neglect within or outside the Commonwealth. Additionally for family day homes, the person affirms if he, or if he knows that any person who resides in the home, has a sex offense conviction or is the subject of a founded complaint of child abuse or neglect within or outside the Commonwealth. The statement or affirmation must be made available to the Department of Social Services' representative.

Who must comply: These individuals must provide sworn statements or affirmations:

- Applicant upon application for licensure or registration as a child welfare agency, and any subsequent person designated as applicant, licensee, or registrant;
- Agent at the time of application who is or will be involved in the day-to-day operation of the child welfare agency or who is or will be alone with, in control of, or supervising one or more of the children and any subsequent person designated as agent who will be involved in the day-to-day operation or will be alone with, in control of, or supervising one or more of the children;
- Any other adult living in the home of an applicant for licensure or registration or approval as a family day home, or any existing employee or volunteer, and subsequent employee or volunteer or other adult living in the home;
- Operator of family day home requesting approval by family day system;
- Person who signs the statement of intent to operate a religiously exempt child day center;
- Any person who will be expected to be alone with one or more children enrolled in a religious exempt child day center; and
- Any employee or volunteer of a licensed, registered, or approved facility who is involved in the day-to-day operations or who is alone with, in control of, or supervising one or more children.

Note: Any other child day center or family day home that has not otherwise met these requirements, and applies to enter into a contract with a local department to provide child care services to clients of a local department, must also submit a sworn statement or affirmation.

Exception: A parent-volunteer is not required to provide a sworn statement or affirmation. A parent-volunteer is a person supervising, without pay, a group of children that includes the parent-volunteer's own child in a program that operates no more than four hours per day, provided that the parent-volunteer works under the direct supervision of a person who has received satisfactory background checks as provided for in the Code.

Any person making a materially false statement regarding any such offense is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

Further dissemination of the sworn statement information is prohibited other than to the Commissioner's representative or a federal or state authority or court in order to comply with an express requirement in the law for that dissemination.

Consequence: If a person required to submit a sworn statement or affirmation (i) fails to submit a sworn statement or affirmation, or (ii) has been convicted of a barrier crime (specified below), or (iii) has been convicted of any other felony in the last five years, or (iv) has been the subject of a founded complaint of child abuse or neglect, and the facility refuses to separate that person from employment or service:

- Licensure, registration or approval of a child day program is prohibited;
- Licensure, registration or approval will be revoked and renewal of a license or registration or religiously exempt status will be denied;
- Religiously exempt status will be revoked; and
- The child welfare agency will not be permitted to receive federal, state or local child care funds.

Exception: A person who wants to operate or to volunteer or work at a facility covered by this regulation, but who is disqualified because of a criminal conviction, or a criminal conviction in the background check of any other adult living in a family day home governed by this regulation may apply for a waiver if: 1) a non-barrier crime felony conviction occurred less than five years ago, or 2) any other adult living in the home of a state regulated family day home applicant or provider has been convicted of not more than one misdemeanor offense of assault and battery or assault and battery against a family or household member. This other adult may not be an assistant or substitute provider.

Instructions for completing the Criminal History Record/Sex Offender and Crimes Against Minors Registry Request Form
(Please read the following General Instructions)

PURPOSE OF THIS REQUEST:	Check type of name search(es) requested for Criminal History Search. Dissemination of criminal history records are processed in accordance with Section 19.2-389, Code of Virginia , governing the program for which the search is requested.
NAME TO BE SEARCHED:	Type the full name (last, first middle [no initials] and maiden name if applicable), sex, race, date of birth, and completed address of person whose name is to be searched against the master criminal name file and/or the Sex Offender and Crimes Against Minors Registry. Note: Signature of person making request is required. Providing the social security number is voluntary; however, it is a screening tool that is used for this request to be processed in a more timely manner. Failure to provide this number may result in an inability to process this request due to multiple records with similar names and demographics. Without this additional identifier, the form may be returned to the requestor unprocessed, and the applicant will be required to submit a set of fingerprints along with this request form to determine if this applicant has a criminal record. Numbers provided will be used to help identify the proper record and will be used for no other purpose.
NAME AND MAILING ADDRESS OF AGENCY, INDIVIDUAL OR AUTHORIZED AGENT MAKING REQUEST:	Agency, Individual or Authorized Agent Making Request: Your agency identification serves as the mailing label for the State Police to return the search results. This information is also reviewed to ensure requestor is statutorily entitled to use this form to request a criminal name search.
FEES FOR SERVICE:	Indicate the fee for the service requested.
METHOD OF PAYMENT:	Method of Payment: Certified Check, Money Order, Company/Business check, MasterCard or Visa. For charge account: record charge account number issued by State Police.

Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification

Instructions

Please read all instructions carefully before completing this form.

Anti-Discrimination Notice. It is illegal to discriminate against any individual (other than an alien not authorized to work in the U.S.) in hiring, discharging, or recruiting or referring for a fee because of that individual's national origin or citizenship status. It is illegal to discriminate against work eligible individuals. Employers CANNOT specify which document(s) they will accept from an employee. The refusal to hire an individual because the documents presented have a future expiration date may also constitute illegal discrimination.

What Is the Purpose of This Form?

The purpose of this form is to document that each new employee (both citizen and non-citizen) hired after November 6, 1986 is authorized to work in the United States.

When Should the Form I-9 Be Used?

All employees, citizens and noncitizens, hired after November 6, 1986 and working in the United States must complete a Form I-9.

Filling Out the Form I-9

Section 1, Employee: This part of the form must be completed at the time of hire, which is the actual beginning of employment. Providing the Social Security number is voluntary, except for employees hired by employers participating in the USCIS Electronic Employment Eligibility Verification Program (E-Verify). The employer is responsible for ensuring that Section 1 is timely and properly completed.

Preparer/Translator Certification. The Preparer/Translator Certification must be completed if Section 1 is prepared by a person other than the employee. A preparer/translator may be used only when the employee is unable to complete Section 1 on his/her own. However, the employee must still sign Section 1 personally.

Section 2, Employer: For the purpose of completing this form, the term "employer" means all employers including those recruiters and referrers for a fee who are agricultural associations, agricultural employers or farm labor contractors. Employers must complete Section 2 by examining evidence of identity and employment eligibility within three (3) business days of the date employment begins. If employees are authorized to work, but are unable to present the required document(s) within three business days, they must present a receipt for the application of the document(s) within three business days and the actual document(s) within ninety (90) days. However, if employers hire individuals for a duration of less than three business days, Section 2 must be completed at the time employment begins. Employers must record:

1. Document title;
2. Issuing authority;
3. Document number;
4. Expiration date, if any; and
5. The date employment begins.

Employers must sign and date the certification. Employees must present original documents. Employers may, but are not required to, photocopy the document(s) presented. These photocopies may only be used for the verification process and must be retained with the Form I-9. However, employers are still responsible for completing and retaining the Form I-9.

Section 3, Updating and Reverification: Employers must complete Section 3 when updating and/or reverifying the Form I-9. Employers must reverify employment eligibility of their employees on or before the expiration date recorded in Section 1. Employers CANNOT specify which document(s) they will accept from an employee.

- A. If an employee's name has changed at the time this form is being updated/reverified, complete Block A.
- B. If an employee is rehired within three (3) years of the date this form was originally completed and the employee is still eligible to be employed on the same basis as previously indicated on this form (updating), complete Block B and the signature block.
- C. If an employee is rehired within three (3) years of the date this form was originally completed and the employee's work authorization has expired or if a current employee's work authorization is about to expire (reverification), complete Block B and:
 1. Examine any document that reflects that the employee is authorized to work in the U.S. (see List A or C);
 2. Record the document title, document number and expiration date (if any) in Block C, and
 3. Complete the signature block.

What Is the Filing Fee?

There is no associated filing fee for completing the Form I-9. This form is not filed with USCIS or any government agency. The Form I-9 must be retained by the employer and made available for inspection by U.S. Government officials as specified in the Privacy Act Notice below.

USCIS Forms and Information

To order USCIS forms, call our toll-free number at 1-800-870-3676. Individuals can also get USCIS forms and information on immigration laws, regulations and procedures by telephoning our National Customer Service Center at 1-800-375-5283 or visiting our internet website at www.uscis.gov.

Photocopying and Retaining the Form I-9

A blank Form I-9 may be reproduced, provided both sides are copied. The Instructions must be available to all employees completing this form. Employers must retain completed Forms I-9 for three (3) years after the date of hire or one (1) year after the date employment ends, whichever is later.

The Form I-9 may be signed and retained electronically, as authorized in Department of Homeland Security regulations at 8 CFR § 274a.2.

Privacy Act Notice

The authority for collecting this information is the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, Pub. L. 99-603 (8 USC 1324a).

This information is for employers to verify the eligibility of individuals for employment to preclude the unlawful hiring, or recruiting or referring for a fee, of aliens who are not authorized to work in the United States.

This information will be used by employers as a record of their basis for determining eligibility of an employee to work in the United States. The form will be kept by the employer and made available for inspection by officials of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Department of Labor and Office of Special Counsel for Immigration Related Unfair Employment Practices.

Submission of the information required in this form is voluntary. However, an individual may not begin employment unless this form is completed, since employers are subject to civil or criminal penalties if they do not comply with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986.

Paperwork Reduction Act

We try to create forms and instructions that are accurate, can be easily understood and which impose the least possible burden on you to provide us with information. Often this is difficult because some immigration laws are very complex. Accordingly, the reporting burden for this collection of information is computed as follows: 1) learning about this form, and completing the form, 9 minutes; 2) assembling and filing (recordkeeping) the form, 3 minutes, for an average of 12 minutes per response. If you have comments regarding the accuracy of this burden estimate, or suggestions for making this form simpler, you can write to: U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, Regulatory Management Division, 111 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., 3rd Floor, Suite 3008, Washington, DC 20529. OMB No. 1615-0047.

But the end, in this case, is only the beginning of a successful and fulfilling career in child care and early childhood education. The end of orientation is the beginning of a lifelong learning process for the child care staff member in which knowledge and experience expands and deepens with movement from novice to master.

As director, you have the responsibility to continue planning for your no-longer-quite-so-new worker's professional growth. Staff also have professional responsibilities to further their own education.

The commitment and the understanding which characterize professionalism are demanding taskmasters in the garden of kinder. There is no higher profession.
