Address (or addresses):

Provide description of violation. The violation could be for exchanging money, property, or anything of value or it could be for engaging in the activities of a licensed child-placing agency without a license to do so.

When the suspected violation relates to the exchange of money, property, or anything of value, provide a detailed listing of the information. Information provided should include a description of what the fee was for and the amount paid.

Please note that this report is to be sent to the Adoptions Unit. When the home study was requested by the court, this report is sent to the Adoptions Unit at the time the home study report is submitted to juvenile court or, if information is learned at a later time, with the Report of Visitation that is submitted to the circuit court.

When the home study was requested by the birth or adoptive parents and arrangements have been made between those parties for the placement of the child, this report is sent to the Adoptions Unit when the home study report is sent to the adoptive parents' attorney.

NOTE: In a parental placement adoption, the Commissioner's Confidential Report form should be submitted to the Permanency Unit with one copy of the Report of Visitation if the form has not already been submitted. The Commissioner's Confidential Report form is to be submitted only to the Permanency Unit.
