

Child Protective Services

Child Protective Services (CPS) in Virginia is a continuum of specialized services designed to assist families who are unable to safely care for their children. It encompasses the identification, assessment, investigation, and treatment of abused or neglected children.*

A report of suspected maltreatment is not an accusation. It is a request for the helping process to begin.*

Responsibilities of Mandated Reporters:

- * Identify children who may be abused or neglected
- * Report concerns of suspected child abuse or neglect within 24 hours.

 Failure to Report could result in fiscal or criminal penalties.

Civil and Criminal Immunity*

Section 63.2-1512 of the Code of Virginia protects a person, who either makes a CPS report or participates in a court hearing that results from a CPS report, from criminal and civil liability unless it is proven that the person acted with malicious intent.

Confidentiality of Reporter:

Code of Virginia protects the confidentiality of the identity of the reporter.

In some instances, despite the child protective services worker's efforts to maintain confidentiality, a family may be able to identify the mandated reporter. In addition, if the case is brought to court, the identity of the mandated reporter may be re-vealed during court proceedings.*

It is better to make your concerns known than to remain silent and possibly allow a child to remain unprotected.
